NOVA ANTIBACTERIAL TREATED PLASTIC & RUBBER

Antibacterial Cleaning Tools are Used in Many Environments Such as Hospitals, Care Homes, Schools, Gyms and Offices But the Benefits Have Also Been Identified Within the Food Industry to Reduce the Risk of Food Poisoning From Contamination.

With the Increasing Awareness of the Need to Improve Hygiene levels, the Demand for Anti bacterial Cleaning Tools is Growing.

Antibacterial Treated Hygiene Tools Effectively Inhibit The Growth of Bacteria on the Surface of The Product.

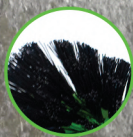

HOW DOES IT WORK

The plastic cleaning tools are treated with an antibacterial additive at the time of production and binds to the cell wall of the bacteria disrupting growth. This interferes with enzyme production stopping the cell producing energy. The DNA is interrupted stopping replication which prevents the growth and spread of harmful microbes.

All plastics in the nova range of anti-bacterial cleaning tools contain the antibacterial additive including the brush filaments, block and handles.
